THE STRIKE IN FRANCE.

The strike of the railroad men, which threatens to spread throughout the length and breadth of France, was denounced yesterday by Premier Briand as "an insurrection purely, built upon criminal foundations."

The premier declared that the strike was called while negotiations were going on through himself and the minister of public works for an adjustment of grievances, and he promised that the instigators of the strike would be criminally prosecuted.

The river Seine, which in January threatened to destroy Paris, now looms up in the role of savior. The government has made arrangements to rush food supplies to Paris from the sea, re-questioning all tugs, boats and barges to meet the crisis brought about by the stoppage of the railway service, and ease the food market, which is already hard hit. The city is threatened with famine unless supplies arrive soon.

The call to the colors has been ignored by the large majority, and at mass meetings held yesterday the strikers reiterated their determination not to respond to the call.

Much destruction has been wrought on the western system, where the strikers and their supporters have held up and derailed trains, blocked tracks, destroyed signals, ripped up rails and cut telephone and telegraph wires.

The losses to commerce already are tremendous. Scores of trains have been stalled along the roads, many of these carrying food supplies which even now have become unfit for use.

The highways leading to Paris are blocked with humanity. Thousands of workmen, trudging toward the city gates, where the congestion was frightful. The demand for cabs and automobiles could not be met and prices soared accordingly.

The Southwest Express had a narrow escape from being wrecked on its arrival at Paris yesterday. The brakes failed to work and subsequent investigation showed that the air tubes had been cut. The train dashed into the Austerlitz station at a speed of 60 miles an hour. It was finally stopped just before reaching the Dorsant terminus.

The situation throughout the republic is regarded as grave.

Railway traffic between Cologne, Germany, and France was at a standstill yesterday. Arrangements have been made to send the French mails in to France by way of Jemont, on the frontier of France.

Travelers in automobiles arriving at Cologne from France by way of Jemont say that many caravans of motor cars have reached the Belgian frontier from French points. They report that the railway strikers are insulting and pelt travelers with missiles. Observers of the situation express the fear that the strike movement will assume a revolutionary character.

It is time of sudden mishap or accident that Chamberlain's Liniment can be relied upon to take the place of the family doctor, who cannot always be found at the moment. Then it is that Chamberlain's Liniment is never found wanting. In cases of sprains, cuts, wounds and bruises Chamberlain's Liniment takes out the soreness and drives away the pain. Sold by W. F. Crighton and Richard Gibson.

REPUBLIC RECOGNIZED.

The provisional government of Portugal has received a telegram from President Comtesse, of Switzerland, announcing that government's recognition of the Portuguese republic.

Brazil has also recognized the new government.

The British Minister, Sir Francis H. Villiers, yesterday handed the premier a note stating that Great Britain would recognize the republic as soon as it was convinced that the revolution was absolutely ended and affairs in Portugal were in a normal state.

The government has issued a decree granting general amnesty to all military and naval offenders.

The patriarch of Lisbon, Monsignor Tosti, it is announced, has signed his allegiance to the new regime. Senhor Teixeira Sousa, leader of the regeneration party, is organizing a new party which will accept republican institutions.

on the broad religious toleration in the United States at the Knights of Columbus banquet in Peoria, Ill., last night.

He said that he favored the broadest measure of religious toleration. He enthused over his pleasant relations with the Catholics and declared that there is no other country where Catholic and Protestant get on as they do in America. Among other things he said:

"There is no other country in the world where there is such really broad religious toleration, such kindly good will among good people at different religious creeds. There is no other country where Catholic and Protestant get on as we do here, each treating the other on the basis of our common citizenship, and judging him not as to how he worships his Creator, but of his conduct toward his fellowmen on his word, a man. We must never permit anything to make us deviate from this standpoint."

"Perhaps I can give you my own theory in short form by telling you of a correspondence I once had. Of course, in every church there are some good men who are narrow, as well as some men who are narrow without being good, and one of these good narrow men, a Protestant clergyman, wrote me a letter of protest about my receiving Cardinal Rampolla at the White House. I wrote him back saying that I had received the cardinal just as, for instance I had received bodies of German Lutherans and Welsh Methodists, and as I expected to receive the archbishop of Canterbury, and that I would hold myself to be a poor representative of the American people, if I failed to treat with good will and friendliness all good men, no matter what their religious faith might be, and I then added that I could best explain my position by saying that I believed our country would last a very long time, and that if it did there would be many presidents, and some of these would be Catholics and some Protestants and that I, a Protestant, wished to act toward my Catholic fellow citizens exactly as I hoped that a Catholic president would act toward his Protestant fellow citizens."
